A word on the cover
The cover art shows six panels of a painting that depicts the exponential growth of knowledge from darkness and ignorance enveloping the little person to an intimidating brighter and clearer world. The scenario becomes more complicated with the explosion and interconnectedness of information. The first panel of these six panels depicts a person illuminated by a constellation of signs and symbols connected to one another in a myriad way in the successive panels. The black, orange, yellow circles symbolize the sensation of meaning creation and meaning communicated by the little person, the decision analyst.

The artist Dr. Rajni Sarma Balachandran is a Ph.D. in Political Science from New York University and has authored her paintings at the New York/New Jersey area.

Information for Efficient Decision Making Big Data, Blockchain and Relevance

Can there be reliable information that is also relevant to decision making? Information for Efficient Decision Making: Big Data, Blockchain and Relevance focuses on the consolidation of information to facilitate making decisions in time, in order to make their operations efficient, to reduce their costs or, conversely, increase their profitability. The advent of blockchain has generated great interest as an alternative to centralised organisations, where the data is gathered through a decentralised ledger keeping of activities of the firm. The decentralised ledger looking to one of the main features of blockchain that has given rise to many sources of technology, development, implementation, privacy, acceptance, evaluation and so on. Blockchain concept is a follow-up to big data environment facilitated by enormous progress in computer hardware, storage capacities and technological resources. This has resulted in the need for a paradigm of data not considered possible earlier. With almost real-time analytics and big firms, the applications have grown to significant levels. This handbook discusses the progress in data collection, pros and cons of collecting information on decentralised publicly available ledgers and several applications.

Kashi R. Balachandran is Professor Emeritus of accounting and operations management at New York University Stern School of Business. Professor Balachandran has written and published more than 80 articles in leading academic journals, and served as the Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Accounting, Auditing and Finance Accounting. As the organizer of the annual KPMG/QAAF conference in New York, he coordinated with KPMG on their funding for the conference. He was on the staff of PricewaterhouseCoopers Research at New York University that develops liaison with industry in addition to serving as associate director. Professor Balachandran is a member of the International Advisory Board of the Institute of Finance Business School in India, served as Distinguished Institute Professor of I.I.T. Goerka World Institute and advisor for instituting their joint program on fashion management with Politecnico di Milano, Italy. He served as a member of the Wisconsin Governor's Commission on Education, Asian American Advisory Council to the Governor's office in New Jersey, and as an advisory member of the Woodrow Wilson Society. He has also served as an advisor to the Governor of New Jersey.
